Health and mobility information

When you make an enquiry for a booking with us, we will ask you to disclose whether you have a medical condition or health issue or have any restrictions on your mobility. This is to enable us (and the operators/suppliers of your holiday) to provide for your health, safety and welfare during your cruise holiday which is our legal responsibility.

We will ask for your explicit consent for our use of this information at the time of requesting it, including our sharing of your information with the supplier or operator of your holiday only for the purposes set out above. If you choose not to disclose this information to us or your consent to use it for the outlined purposes, we may not be able to provide the services you have requested due to our legal responsibility to provide you with a safe holiday.

Aggregated data

We also collect, use and share Aggregated Data such as statistical or demographic data for any purpose. Aggregated Data may be derived from your personal data but is not considered personal data in law as this data does not directly or indirectly reveal your identity. For example, we may aggregate information about how you use our website and services to calculate the percentage of users accessing a particular website feature. However, if we combine or connect Aggregated Data with your personal data so that it can directly or indirectly identify you, we treat the combined data as personal data which will be used in accordance with this privacy policy.

2. Purposes for which we process your personal data

To manage and administer your travel bookings

When you book your holiday with us we will use your personal data in order to perform the services you have agreed to purchase, including taking payment for your holiday, making arrangements with the operator and other suppliers for your holiday, issuing tickets, passing on your special requests to the operator and other suppliers and otherwise administering and performing the booking contract that you have made with us. This may involve us sharing data with companies not established in the European Economic Area. See section 4 "Sharing your data" below as to the steps we take to ensure your data is protected in accordance with Data Protection Laws.

As a necessary part of administering and processing your travel booking we will need to use your personal data for accounting, billing and audit, credit or other payment card verification, fraud screening, safety and security purposes, internal systems testing and maintenance and development.

As stated in Section 1. above, with your explicit consent, any relevant health and mobility information that you provide to us will be passed to the operator and other suppliers in order to provide you with a safe holiday.

Your personal data will also be used if you ask us to amend or cancel your booking. When administering and managing your booking we will contact you using the contact information you provided at the time of booking. Please note that these communications are not made for marketing purposes and as such you will continue to receive them from us even if you have told us that do not wish to receive marketing communications from us.

To communicate with you and manage our relationship with you

If we have received a request from you, such as emailing us, telephoning us, filling in one of our webforms through our website or contacting us via social media (including from time to time, Facebook, Twitter, Instagram and YouTube), we will use the contact details you provide to reply to your request.

We value your opinion, so if you have travelled on one of our holidays we may send you a feedback request form to ask you for your views on your holiday and any concerns you have about the performance of the holiday contract. We will use this communication to manage our relationship with you as our customer and to improve our services and experience for customers.

In order to continually improve our service, we may use third party providers to collect feedback on our booking processes on our behalf, such as Feefo or other independent customer review companies. This may involve passing your name and email address to the third-party provider to enable them to send you an email invitation to provide feedback. Feedback is collected solely for our internal business use to ensure that we continually keep informed and to enable us to improve our service based on such feedback. Feedback that you provide will not be published without your prior written consent. You have a right to object to our use of your personal data for this purpose and we will immediately stop sharing your personal data with any external provider of a feedback service if you ask us to. We will ensure that any third-party providers is required to process the data in accordance with our instructions and the Data Protection Laws.

To personalise and improve our service

We would like to use your personal data to tailor our services to your needs and preferences. This may include collecting information on your past bookings, information on how you use our website (such as which pages you visit and which offers you searched for most) as well as asking you for your operator or destination.

To inform you about new offers that you may like

We would like to send you communications about new offers and related travel services that you may like to book with us. Offers may include products and services that you may wish to add to your booking such as airport and port parking, UK chauffer transfers, flight upgrade opportunities, UK overnight hotels with parking, and mobility equipment hire. If you have previously enquired about our holidays or have made a booking with us (and so have previously shown an interest in our products and services) we will send you marketing communications [by email and post] unless you tell us that you do not want to receive these. If you have not booked or enquired with us previously, then we will only send you details of offers if you have agreed to receive these, for example, when you subscribe through our website or register on our website to receive offers. You can choose how you want to receive these communications – by email or by post or both. You may also make a request to receive marketing material from us over the phone.

Please note that we do not share your personal details with other companies for their own marketing purposes without your prior consent.

You can change your preferences concerning marketing communications at any time. You can do this by:

- clicking on the relevant unsubscribe link on any of our marketing related emails you may have agreed to receive from us;
- calling our Reservations team on 020 3995 3370; or
- writing to us at TS Travel Ltd, Office 3, 6 Morie Studios, Morie St, Wandsworth, London SW18 1SL ; or
- Email us at customerservices@ts.tours

For other lawful purposes

We will use your personal data for such other lawful purposes as are permitted under the Data Protection Laws and we will always obtain consent where required.

3.How Personal data is Collected

We use different methods to collect data from you and about you including through:

(A) Direct Interactions

You may give us your identity, contact and financial data by filling in forms or by corresponding with us by post, phone, email or otherwise. This includes personal data you provide when you:

- Make a booking of travel services

- Subscribe to our newsletter or other publications,
- Request marketing to be sent to you,
- Enter a competition, promotion or survey
- Give us some feedback

(B) Automated technologies or interactions

As you interact with our website, we may automatically collect technical data about your equipment, browsing actions and patterns.

We may collect this personal data by using cookies, server logs and other similar technologies. We may also receive technical data about you if you visit other websites employing our cookies. Please see our cookies policy for further details.

(C) Third parties

We may receive personal data about you from various third parties as set out below:

- Technical Data from the following parties
 - (i) Analytics providers [such as Google based outside the EU]
 - (ii) Advertising networks [such as [name] based [INSIDE OR OUTSIDE] the EU]; and
 - (iii) Search information providers [such as [NAME] based [inside OR outside] the EU]
- Contact, financial and transaction data from providers of technical, payment and delivery services [such as [NAME] based [inside OR outside] the EU]
- Identity and contact data from data brokers or aggregators [such as [NAME] based [inside OR outside] the EU]
- Identity and contact data from publicly available sources [such as Companies House and the Electoral Register based inside the EU]

4. Security and retention of your personal data

At TS Travel Ltd we respect your privacy and we take appropriate technical and organisational measures to protect your personal data against unauthorised or unlawful processing and against accidental loss, destruction or damage to personal data. This includes, as appropriate: the pseudonymisation and encryption of personal data; the ability to ensure the ongoing confidentiality, integrity, availability and resilience of processing systems and services; the ability to restore the availability and access to personal data in a timely manner in the event of a physical or technical incident; and a process for regularly testing, assessing and evaluating the effectiveness of technical and organisational measures for ensuring the security of the processing.

When you provide your personal data through our website, this information is transmitted across the internet securely using high-grade encryption. In addition to this, we do not record card payment details. This means we adhere to high security standards in order to protect your payment card details when you make a booking over the phone or pay your balance through the 'my account' area on our website.

Where we need to disclose your information to a third party for the fulfilment of your travel booking, we require that third party to have appropriate technical and organisational measures in place to protect your personal data and to process your data in accordance with our instructions.

The information that you provide to us will be held securely in our systems, which are located on our premises or those of an appointed third party. We will only allow access to your personal data by third parties who act for us for the purposes described in this privacy policy or for other purposes approved by you

We will only retain your personal data for as long as is appropriate and necessary for the purpose for which it is processed and we will limit the period for which personal data is stored to a minimum. To determine the appropriate retention period for personal data we consider the amount, nature and sensitivity of the data, the potential risk of harm from unauthorised use or disclosure of your personal data, the purposes for which we process your data and whether we can achieve those purposes through other means, and the applicable legal requirements. You can request details of our retention policy. In some circumstances we may anonymise your personal data (so that it can no longer be associated with you) for research or statistical purposes in which case we may use this information indefinitely without further notice to you. We will periodically review time limits for erasure. In addition, you have a right to have your personal data restricted or erased – see more details under Section 5 below.

5. Sharing your personal data

We will need to share your personal data with third parties involved in performing the travel services that you have booked. This may include sharing your personal data with:

- Airlines, operators & cruise lines – for the purpose of fulfilling the flight, holiday and cruise elements of your holiday booking.
- Other suppliers – for the purpose of fulfilling other elements of your holiday. We may for example need to share your personal data with the companies who provide ground services for us in resort, the accommodation provider, and transfer and other transport providers.
- Credit and debit card companies –TS Ltd shares some of your personal data, which includes information about your chosen method of payment, to the credit or debit card company that issues the card you use to make your booking. In order to ensure the security of your transactions and prevent or detect fraudulent transactions, we may also share your information with our fraud screening partner.

During the time of booking, we will ask you for your passport and visa information, insurance details and next-of-kin information and share this with the operator if they require it. We collect this information: to enable your entry to the various ports on your itinerary; and in the case of an incident during your cruise, to ensure that you are covered by insurance (including a medical evacuation) and to enable a next-of-kin to be contacted.

We will also need to share your personal data when necessary to comply with a legal obligation to which we are subject. This may include sharing your data with:

- Authorities including the CAA – We may also disclose your personal data to the Civil Aviation Authority (CAA), for the purposes of ensuring compliance with the enforcement of the Civil Aviation (ATOL) Regulations 2012 (as amended from time to time).

In addition, we may disclose your personal data when this is required by the law of any jurisdiction to which TS Travel Ltd may be subject.

We require any third party that processes your personal data on our behalf to comply with high security standards for the protection of your personal data, our instructions for processing your personal data, and all other requirements of the Data Protection Laws as applicable.

If your holiday is supplied by an operator, cruise operator or other supplier established outside of the European Economic Area and or involves travel outside of the European Economic Area (“EEA”), your personal data may need to be transferred outside of the EEA in order to fulfil your booking. We will not transfer personal data outside of the EEA unless we have appropriate safeguards in place as required by the Data Protection Laws. If the country where the supplier is based has not been deemed to provide an adequate level of protection for personal data by the European Commission, we will have specific contracts approved by the European Commission which provide the same protection to personal data as it has in Europe. Where we use suppliers in the US, we may transfer data to them if they are part of the Privacy Shield which requires them to provide similar protection to personal data shared between the Europe and the US.

We will not share your personal details with other companies for their own marketing purposes without your prior consent.

6. Your legal rights

Access Request

You have the right to request a copy of the personal data that we hold about you and to check that we are lawfully processing it (commonly known as a “data subject access request”) free of charge. Further copies may incur an administration charge. This could include booking information relating to holidays you have booked through us. We may charge a reasonable fee if your request is clearly unfounded, repetitive or excessive, alternatively we may refuse to comply with your request in these circumstances.

Request Correction

You can also ask us to rectify any errors in your personal data, complete any incomplete data that we hold, or transfer it to you or another person.

Object to Processing & Request erasure

Where you have given your consent to our processing of your data, you have the right to withdraw your consent at any time. If you withdraw your consent and there is no other legal basis for us to process your data, you can ask us to erase your personal data. You can also require us to erase your data if we have processed your data unlawfully or if the law requires us to erase your data. We will not always be able to comply with your request for erasure or specific legal reasons which will be notified to you, if applicable, at the time of your request. Where we process your personal data for direct marketing purposes, you have the right to object to such processing, including any profiling related to such direct marketing. We shall cease to process your data upon being notified of your objection. You have the right to object to any processing of your personal data where we are relying on a legitimate interest and you feel the processing impacts on your fundamental rights and freedoms. In some cases we may demonstrate that we have compelling legitimate grounds to process your information which override your rights and freedoms.

Request restriction of processing

You may also restrict or suspend the processing of your data where you want us to establish the data’s accuracy, where we no longer need your data for processing but need your data for the establishment, exercise or defence of legal claims or you have objected to our use of your data but we need to verify whether we have overriding legitimate grounds to use it.

Request the transfer

You may request the transfer of your personal data to you or to a third party. We will provide to you, or a third party you have chosen, your personal data in a structured, commonly used, machine-readable format. Note that this right only applies to automated information which you initially provided consent for us to use or where we used the information to perform a contract with you.

Withdraw consent at any time

You may withdraw your consent at any time where we are relying on consent to process your personal data. However, this will not affect the lawfulness of any processing carried out before you withdraw your consent. If you withdraw your consent, we may not be able to provide certain products or services to you. We will advise you if this is the case at the time you withdraw your consent.

Full details of your rights are set out in the Data Protection Laws.

If you would like to request a copy of your personal data, want to object to any type of processing of your data or have any other requests, concerns or questions about your personal data, please contact us by writing to TS Travel Ltd, Office 3, 6 Morie Studios, Morie St, Wandsworth, London SW18 1SL or by emailing us at customerservices@ts.tours.

7. Glossary

LAWFUL BASIS

- Legitimate Interest – means the interest of our business in conducting and managing our business to enable us to give you the best service and the best and most secure experience. We make sure we consider and balance any potential impact on you (both positive and negative) and your rights before we process your personal data for our legitimate interests. We do not use your personal data for activities where our interests are overridden by the impact on you (unless we have your consent or are otherwise required or permitted by law). You can obtain further information about we assess our legitimate interests against any potential impact on you in respect of specific activities by contacting us.
- Performance of Contract – means processing your data where it is necessary for the performance of a contract to which you are a party or to take steps at your request before entering into such a contract.
- Comply with a legal or regulatory obligation – means processing your personal data where it is necessary for compliance with a legal or regulatory obligation that we are subject to.

8. Updates to our Privacy Policy

We may make changes to this privacy policy from time to time and will publish on our website any new version of this policy. Past versions of the policy may be obtained by contacting us. This policy was last updated on 31st December 2019
